

Information on the upcoming call for new members and ‘affiliated partners’

The next call for new healthcare centres to join ERN CRANIO as full members is expected around April 2019. We will post more information on this call when it is made available by the European Commission. What we do currently know is that those centres applying for full membership must fulfil a set criteria and be endorsed by their national government.

Between now and the next call for full members, member states can designate ‘affiliated partners’. Affiliated partners are not members of an ERN. Furthermore, if a member state already has a healthcare provider involved in the network as a full member, they cannot designate an affiliated partner.

Therefore, if a healthcare provider wishes to become a full member of ERN CRANIO, they may wish to consider whether or not they apply for affiliated partnership. Affiliated partners may at a later stage, if they are healthcare providers and develop the required expertise, become ERN members. However, this would only happen in compliance with the procedures for membership applicable to any healthcare provider and NOT automatically or with a special procedure. Please note moreover that an affiliated partner will lose its partnership if a healthcare provider from the same member state joins the network as a full member.

What are affiliated partners?

There are two types of affiliated partners.

1. Associated National Centres which will participate in one network only and, as defined in the 2017 Board Statement, are healthcare providers "with at least some special expertise matching the global thematic domain of a given reference network that concentrates primarily on the provision of healthcare directly related to the activities and services of this specific network, including any type of diagnostic contribution supporting this provision of healthcare. Associated National Centres can therefore comprise any of the following institutions: (i) clinics and departments/clinical units providing direct outpatient and/or inpatient services to patients; (ii) medical and genetic diagnostic laboratories; (iii) pathological laboratories; (iv) specific facilities for instrument-based diagnostics".
2. National Coordination Hubs which establish a link with more than one network at once and, as defined in the 2017 Board Statement, comprise "any type of institution with the appropriate knowledge and the legal and organizational capacity to link the national healthcare system to a number or all European Reference Networks. National Coordination Hubs function as interfaces between the national healthcare system and those Networks where a given Member State is neither represented by a full member nor by an Associated National Centre. National Coordination Hubs do not need any specific medical expertise or knowledge and their composition might range from: (i) a major national healthcare provider [...]; (ii) a network of healthcare providers coordinated at national level; (iii) a non-hospital based, specifically assigned institution as contact and coordination point linking the ERNs with the national system [...]" such as the National Contact Points created by the 2011 Cross Border Healthcare Directive.

Note: If a member state already has a healthcare provider involved in the network as a full member, they cannot designate an affiliated partner. Affiliated partners are expected to provide a link to the ERN for those European countries without a healthcare provider involved. It thus addresses the concerns related to the geographic coverage of the networks.

What is the expected role of an ‘affiliated partner’ within ERNs?

Whilst not having the level of expertise that would make them qualify for membership, the affiliated partners will contribute to the networks’ activities and benefit from their expertise, facilitating the sharing of knowledge across the EU. Most importantly, affiliated partners should act as entry points to ERNs for patients, improving the accessibility for patients across the EU. For that reason, the affiliated partners shall participate in the CPMS virtual consultation panels for those patients that they have referred to the networks and may also attend some other virtual panels for their own learning purposes or to fill any knowledge gap, due to their specific expertise (e.g. in case of laboratories).

As per the 2017 board statement, the ERN coordinators are expected to develop:

- a) "a clear policy objective for the active engagement and participation of affiliated partners, underpinned by transparent rules and strategies that describe how affiliated partners can interact, participate and contribute to the specific ERN"
- b) "a clear strategy which includes detailed pathways regarding the integration and participation of affiliated partners in the networks".

These will need to be presented to, discussed with and approved by the Board of Member States prior to implementation.

How do healthcare providers become an affiliated partner of an ERN?

Member states have to ‘designate’ an affiliated partner. There are designation templates available, which member states can choose whether or not to use.

The designation letter includes information on the affiliated partner and the network(s) which they wish to establish a link with and the annex gives a description of the designated affiliated partner, highlighting how the affiliated partner complies with the set of minimum recommended criteria identified in the 2017 Board Statement. At the same time, as stated by the Board in that document, "it is important to note that despite the mandatory requirement for some specific expertise within the thematic area covered by the respective network, Associated National Centres are not requested to meet these criteria to the same degree that is expected for full membership."

As for National Coordination Hubs, the Board noted in the same document that "With the broad range of non-specialized institutions eligible as National Coordination Hub, the minimum recommended criteria applicable to all are confined to general aspects only."

Note: the full criteria for membership can be found here:

https://ec.europa.eu/health/sites/health/files/ern/docs/specificcriteria_en.xlsx

The designation letter will be sent by the Member States to the Commission’s functional mailbox SANTE-ERN-AFFILIATED-PARTNERS@ec.europa.eu and to the Coordinator of the Network that this affiliated partner shall join. The deadline will be at the launch of the next call for new members (expected around April 2019)

The coordinators will make contact with the designated affiliated partner and member state. They may request more information from them.

Please also note that, as stated by the Board on 10 October 2017, "In the event of a disagreement on the integration of a concrete, nationally designated Affiliated Partner into an ERN between the Member State and the Coordinator of the given Network, the Board of Member States on ERN shall be contacted by both parties and provided with all necessary information on the nationally designated candidate in question, as well as the reasons identified by the ERN why it might not be advisable to include this specific candidate into the Network."

Based on the information and evidence provided, the Board will take the final decision on the inclusion or non-inclusion of this candidate into the network".

If your centre is unsure about whether full membership or affiliated partnership is most suitable, we advise you to speak to your Board of Member States representative. You can find the list of names and email addresses here:
